PRESS RELEASE

Beta Systems Signs Xband Enterprises as first US-based partner for IAM Solutions

Berlin / McLean, VA, February 26, 2019 - Beta Systems IAM Software AG continues its expansion in North America. The new partner, Xband Enterprises, headquartered in Andover, Massachusetts, delivers high-speed internet hosting services and cloud-based solutions worldwide. For Beta Systems, this is a major step in introductions of the next-generation IAM solutions to the US market, focused on the needs of the business user.

"We are absolutely delighted to be the first U.S. based company enabled by Beta Systems as a Cloud Integration Partner. Xband Enterprises will expand its cyber portfolio to offer hardened Identity & Access Management solutions that will help protect our clients from the ever changing cyber threat landscape. For 37 years Beta Systems has served clients with strategic solutions. This partnership enables us the foundation to help our customers achieve compliance requirements while adapting to the ever changing needs of the cloud. Beta Systems Identity and Access Management Garancy Suite coupled with our patented keystroke encryption is the strongest Identity and Access Management solution that prevents loss of credentials from Zero-day keyloggers", said CEO of Xband Enterprises; Troy Cromwell. "We look forward to expanding our client base and offerings with Beta Systems."

"The addition of Xband Enterprises to our distribution channel in the US is key to future success in the marketplace. With Xband's forward-thinking services, their customers can now experience IAM as a key component of an overall cyber strategy", said Walter Teichert, Director of International Sales. "We're confident that Xband's current and future customers will appreciate the business-driven approach to IAM in our Garancy suite."
